

Kelley Quan

reviews
reviews
reviews

Hot under the collar? Get Heat styling Thermal Care for your hair

I am a huge fan of ceramic hair appliances not only because they work more efficiently than traditional appliances but they are also kinder on your locks. But even with this TLC, repeated use of any appliance can leave your hair looking a little parched. There are a lot of Thermal hair products on the market, made to handle the heat and protect your hair. Here are a few of my favorites:

Prive Thermal Protection Detangling Spray by celeb stylist Laurent DuFourg is a deep penetrating, herbal enriched, detangler spray that penetrates into the cuticle of the hair. This lightweight spray contains bamboo to help strengthen and fortify the hair and cactus to promote re-growth, add silkiness and shine. Prive Thermal Protection spray delivers superior conditioning and protects during heat styling, $19.00 available at www.priveproducts.com.

By Kelley Quan

Published: 05 November 2009 12:13 AM PST